I strongly object to the removal of a 30 day limit for TV/film productions not requiring approval. I live in an area (Byron Shire) that has been highly impacted by a variety of productions, the most recent being Love Island.

Whilst I support film and TV production in the area in general, (I am a screenwriter), I do not accept the need to remove the 30 day limit. This will only encourage companies to come to this area and produce more vacuous fodder, take advantage of the areas natural beauty and provide very little in return. Such productions have a huge impact on local amenity, and bare no responsibility for their consequences - increased traffic, closure of roads, poor development, environmental degradation on 'temporary' film sites, noise, crowding etc.

I ask ANY one considering this application if they would seriously enjoy a production like Love Island as their neighbour? Think about it. Instead I would reduce the number of days to 7 for non-approval and then allow the local Council to decide what productions actually provide net benefit to the people who are being impacted.

Thank you.
